Ford's Athereus.—This evening is set apart for the benefit of Mr. Harry Gilbert, the excellent American Pantomimist, and a very attractive bill is presented, comprising comedy, tightrope sacension, and two very laughable pantomimas, in both of which Mr. Gilbert sustains the principal parts, and we trust he will be greeted by a full house, as he is deserving. Mr. Donaldson appears on the tightrope and carries a man on his back; any person in the audience desirous of taking a ride will be gratified. Miss Mollie Williams appears in the comedy, together with Messers. Sheldon, Keller, &c., torming a perfect galaxy of talont. This place of amusement is the only theatre open at present in the city, and with the light and sughable entertainment and most excellent ventilation to be found at this fashionable temple of the drams, an evening cannot be more sgreeably spent.

A Large Haws of Government Goods.
On the 28th ult., the Provost Guard, under Lieut. Raymond, ontered the house called the Union hotel, on Thirtsen-and-s-half street near, the Avenue, and insisted on making a search of the entire building. The proprietor said he had already been searched and nothing found.
This did not deter the lieutemant, however, who ordered the guard to the work. One room the proprietor was quite particular not to have disturbed, as it contained private matters too delicate for the intrusive eyes of the guard.
The room was opened by the peremptory order of Lieut. Haymond, and a large amount of property found. The following named Government property was seized in and about this precious receptacle of stolen goods:
14 sets of harmens, 5 blankets, 2 haiters, 1 rubber overcoat, 1 sabre and belt, 1 pair of holsters, 1 carbine belt, 1 infantry belt, box and bayonet, 1 cavairy belt and box, 5 knapsacks filed to the brim with ether articles, 4 haversacks, 6 canteens, 1 cap box, 3 overcoats, 2 pair of pants, 1 tent, 3 flags, 2 blouses, 1 saddle and bridle, part of a set of harness, and two horses marked "U. S."

Young Thieres Promptly Arrested.

Young Thieves Prompety Arrested.
Yesterday) afternoon, Hon. John M. Carlisle, of this city, sent a note to the Fourth ward police, stating that his stable had been broken into, a short time previous, and two livery costs, some gloves, &c., had been taken away. Roundaman Fenwick and Officer Handley started to ferret out the perpetrators, and in less than half an hour from leaving the station house they were back again, having the robbers in custody. They are mere boys, from 15 to 17 years of age, but old offenders. Only the day previous, the same party were in the lock-up for some offence, and were released only a few bours before this robbery. Their names are John Dacy John Early, David Murphy, and John Collins. They were found with their plunder hidden in one of the patent portable wooden tents which are standing on E street, between First and Second. The officers were obliged to take a portion of the roof of before they could get at the rogues. The coats and gloves were found in tithir possession and taken to the station-Murphy had cut the buttons from one of them and put them in his pocket. The entire party were lodged in the station-house last night, and will have their trial before Justice Walter to-day.

Colemni Tatt,

Colemel Tast,

Of the First District of Columbia volunteers, has arrived safely at his command, at Little Washington, Rappahannock county, Va. While in this city, Coi. T. had such a severe attack of illness that his life was despaired of, and his regiment never expected to see him again at their head. When the arrival of the colonel was noised around dump, all of the officers and men of the brigade in which the regiment is stationed turned out and gave him a most enthusiastic welcome. We have this from a gentleman who has just left Pope's army, and who states that he never saw such a greeting accorded to any one as that extended to the pallant colonel of the First District regiment. Coi. Tait is loved by all his men, and they are anxieus and willing to follow wherever he leads.— Chronicle.

Kate Wilson, a notorious famale, was arrest-last Saturday in one of our popular places amusement where famales are not admitted, order to enjoy the fun served up for the sides, she attired herself in male garments, as was accompanied by a man calling himself John Fuller, who had a lieutenant's straps on his shoulders. The officer who was arrested with the woman offered the policeman who had him in hand $100 to let him off. The parties were taken before Justice Waiter, and admonwere taken below summer, and admon-ished and then let off!

We would be glad to have the authorities know what lieutenant this is, engaged in such rare amusements, but regret to say that we

Outrageous Treatment of an Orphan Child.

Child.

On Saturday afternoon, the officers of the Seventh ward arrested a woman on H street, near Seventh, on the charge of cruelty to an orphan child, who is living with her. The officers found the child with a rope around it, and it is charged that she hung the child by the rope several hours! She refused to allow the officers to arrest her, and they we obliged to drag her along by main force. Even this was found to be a disagreeable operation, and, as a found to be a disagreeable operation, and, as a last resort, a whesharrow was obtained, and in this elegant style she was conveyed to the station-house.

Friday, as a car was passing through the Sec-ondward, as lady passenger complained that her pocket book, containing about $30, had been stolen. Patrolinan Britt instantly arrest-ed a young fellow who had been sitting near her. He was taken before Justice Clark and the money was found on him. He gave the name of Thos. Jones, and was committed to jail for a further hearing. Ho! for the Pic-Nic To-day.

No doubt a large assemblage will gather at Analostan Island, for the purpose of partici-pating in the delightful pic-nic advertised to take place to-day for the benefit of St. Matthew's schools. Let all who desire to aid the cause and enjoy themselves take this op-portunity to turn saids from care and toil and enjoy one day of social enjoyment.

The war spirit in this city is on the increase. Measures are being taken to organize a brigade in this city to perform home duty only. There are but few men who cannot give an hour or two a day to drill. Let our people provide for the defence of our city, and let the soldiers who are here be put to more active service, according to their own urgent request. It is add that 2,000 clerks in the Departments are willing to be enrolled in the proposed brigade.

On Friday last, Messrs. W. L. Wall & Co. sold six small frame houses on lots 9 and 10, in square 580, situated on C street west. Two were bought by G. Bentner, at $250 each; three by S. Hicking, at $180, $195, and $505; and one by Peter Brady, at $335.

Deings of the Secret Guard-Breaking The Case of the Warden of the Peniten-

Last Priday night was quits an active one for the efficient guard under the command of Licu-tesant Raymond. The following dense of thicese were visited, and their inmates and contents disposed of:

- Mrs. Shaen, No. 72, A street east, was found solling liquor without license. Her liquors were destroyed, and the proprietress taken to the Central guard-house, and, on Baturday morning, fined, by Justice Waiter, $20, which she paid.

the Central guard-house, and, on Saturday morning, fined, by Justice Walter, $30, which also paid.

Johanna Mack, 74 Third street east, corner of Sant Capitol street, was selling liquor without license. One barrel of bad whisky, six bottles of ale, and a demijohn of liquid poison were rolled into the streets, the vessels smashed, the contents sent to the guiters, and the woman taken before Justice Walter, and the saxt morning required to pay a fine of $30.

Peter Mack, in the same house, was arrested for having, in his possession the following articles of Government property: S55 sacks marked "U.S.," 48 bags, 15 bridles, 6 halters, 2 axes, 1 pick, and one box marked as Government goods, not yet opened. He had a partial hearing, and was then locked up for a more full investigation.

ed "U.S.," 48 bags, 15 bridies, 5 balters, 2 axes, 19 pick, and one box marked as Government goods, not yet opened. He had a partial bearing, and was then locked up for a more full investigation.

John Donahoe, between A and C streets cast, was found selling liquor without license. He was taken before Justice Walter and fined $20, and the following articles broken and contents sent down the gutters: 7 bottles, 6 demijohns, 1 jug and 2 kegs of the meanest kind of ditued, adulterated, tangle-foot "dre-water" of various degrees of killing power, with 18 bottles of sickening ale.

David Aikien, a dolored man, keeping a vile den on Eighth street east, was found to have in his possession one Government horse and a mare and colt. He, with the animals, was turned over to Major Doster.

Michael Bryan, living on Tenth street, between F and G, had his "osatie" overhauled, and the following property belonging to his adopted Uncle Samuel was found in his possession: 47 bed ticks, 3 pairs drawers, 3 shirts, 2 plankets, 3 pairs pants, 2 blouses, 1 musket, 1 pick, 1 shovel, and a box containing as endless variety of contraband articles. He and the property were turned over to Major Doster.

J. R. Wood, corner of Tenth and D streets, was taken in hand with the following goods in his "crib:" 2 overcoats, 2 satchels filled with small articles, 1 ars, 3 sacks and 3 boxes containing a great variety of Government goods.

This was a good night's work, as the amount of property recovered more than pays the expense of the guard, to say nothing of the number of evil-doers who are terrified out of future depredations by fear of detection by the energetic guard.

"The Fugitive Blave Law
Was duly and quietly executed in this city today, in the case of four young colored slaves, abscondents from their masters in Bt. Mary's county, Maryland. The owners, a Mr. Guyther and two other citizens of that county, followed them here, and taking the necessary steps under the law, the slaves were found and arrested by the proper officers, the cases heard before the commissioners, the property proved and delivered. The slaves were directly started for home, by way of Baltimore, to go thence by steamer to Bt. Mary's."
So says the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun of Saturday last.

Officers Fenwick, Pendle, Crown and Handley of the Fourth ward, arrested Martha Douglas, keeper of a bawdy house, and Mary Jane Holland, Ann Eaton and Mary Eaton, inmate of the house, were brought along in company; all were drunk and disorderly, and the latter was caught actively plying her profession. The arrest was made in consequence of a complaint made by Mr. George Savage, who saw a man dragging the woman, Mary Eaton, into the yard. The parties were placed in the lock-up till this morning.

On Saturday afternoon, the horses attached to one of the excursion cars of our passenger railway, when near the Capitol, became fright-seed and unmanageable, and dashed along the Avenue at a fearful rate, stopping only when they could go no further, at the Capitol gate. The passengers were much alarmed, but escaped without injury. The car suntained some triding damage, but was not prevented from making its usual trips.

A cotemporary says that George Evans and John Warner were arrested last Saturday in the Fourth ward, and that Justice Walter fined them "32 and a shower bath." Did they pay the fine in legal tender or Aard coin?

On Thursday and Friday, Mears, W. L. Wall & Co. sold at the Government corral 135 horses, at prices ranging from 1 to 56 dollars; 14 mules from 2 to 70 dollars, and 43 colts from 7 to 10 dollars each.

Got Her Dignity Taken Down.

Got Her Digmity Taken Down.

Happening in conversation with a friend the other day, and, naturally, talking about the treatment Union soldiers received from ladies(?) of secession proclivities, my friend told me that, in Aiswandria, the secessionists teach their children to throw stones at and spit upon the Union soldiers, and to call them by opprobrious titles, which instructions the young rebels generally carry out to the letter.

Among other things, I was told of a very good joke which occurred there a few days since. It appears the ladies (?) are in the habit of, in various ways, showing their contempt for the soldiers; and, while one of them was passing a hospital on King street, showing them, by her manceuvres, that she despised them, she held her dress somewhat higher than modesty demands. A soldier, sitting with some others outside the hospital, exclaimed, "Whew! what a dirty pair of stockingsi" which caused Miss She-cesh to drop her crinoline instantly. Guess they had better see that they have clean hose before they fiirt their dignity at Union soldiers.

To the Editors of the National Remarkers:
Since my return to the city this day, my altention has been called to the Remarkers, of Wednesday last, which, in giving an account of the proceedings in the original source on the day previous, reterring to the case against myself, state that I was acquired in consequence of flaws in the indictment. This statement is entirely erronsous, as is manifest from the annexed letter of my counsel. I have to request that you will publish it, with this statement, as a correction of the error.

Wassimorow Cirr, August 1, 1862.

Dras Size in compliance with your request we furnish for such use as you may find convenient, the following statement of the course of the trials of the indictments against you as Warden of the Pentitentiary. There were two separate transactions alleged, and upon each of them the indictments of the course of the proposed offences.

The first indictment officially the supposed offences.

The first indictment officially was promptly endered upon the merits without any instruction from the Court.

This acquittal disposed of the second fadictment, which depended upon the same testimony and law.

The third indictment was founded on the subtreasury act of 1846. Objection was taken that it did not south any any allegation that at the time of the supposed offence, you had any public money in your hands, without which fact you could not be guilty of embezzing the public money. The ourir held that it was essential to allege and prove the fact, in order to convict under the statute. This has been the uniform ruling of the court, beginning with the case of MoNully, clerk of the House of Representatives, tried in 1846 or 1847. The district attorney desired to argue the question, but upon the court stating that the point was clear, although at the same time expressing a willingness to hear the argument, he declined to proceed with it.

The district attorney admitted that he had no evidence to show that you had at the time public money in your possession. We stated, as we were propared to prove by the public books of the penitentiary, that at the time of the alleged embezziement, you had expended all Government money which had come to your hands, and were at the time their creditor for a atount exceeding nine hundred dollar.

Very respectfully,
